Additional numbers will be posted and cards sent out every few days until Mason county's quota of 120 has been flijed.

It was the Intention of the Exemption Board to post the numbers today but on account of the fact that no franked envelopes to be used in mailing the cards had been received it was thought best to await their arrival, so that the cards could be sent out at the same time the numbers were posted, thus dolng justice to aii.

It is a refusal to the people of the privilege to upply a remedy for inefficiency or worse if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to when a remedy would be effective. It is a postponement of action what It has done for me, so as to help until action will come too late. It is advocacy of a post mortem instead of a prophylactic. It is, in short, a summons to Congress to do battle for its rights or to surrender. #### RESPONSIBILTY MISPLACED

Scnator Vardaman, of Mississippi, is one Democrat who generally uses words that very neenrately state the facts but he was somewhat misleuding the other duy when he spoke of the "prodilate yesterday. Albert Coffman was pillar. This basect is more neticeable gality with which public moneys are being expended by the Con- stabbed to denth and his opponent. gress." Congress does not expend any money except the relatively Richard Lacle, was clubbed on the small amount for the contingent expenses of the Senate and House. Congress appropriates "not exceeding" certain amounts which the executive departments expend under the direction of the President. These appropriations are made usually in accordance with estimates and recommendations made by the Departments and the President. Since the war began Congress has raised little qunestion as to the reasonubleness of the etimutes. In any event, Congress does not compel the executive departments to spend all of the money appropriated. If there be extravagance, the responsibility rests entirely upon the men who alone have the power to spend the money.

REASONABLE INTEREST NOW

Many of the problems arising ont of the conduct of the war create no interest among the people of the country. The controversy over the relative merits of steel and wooden ships is given only a ing granbed a wrench as the men passing thought by most newspaper readers. Likewise, most people toppled into the water. As their feet who wanted to forbid the use of grain in the manufacture of any touched bottom, Lacie said, he suc-tce. kind of liquor are willing to yield to the desire of President Wilson ceeded in drawing a knife from his that beer production be continued. But when it comes to a matter pocket and stabled Coffman repeatedof inequality of census estimates which levy a larger toll of men from hold from about his neck. the North thun from the South, and when Northern soldiers are all shipped into the enervating climate of the South for summer training, all people who have friends or relatives directly affected are bound to take a personal and active interest. And, as a consequence, all these people are likely to realize the importance of the creation of the proposed joint, bi-partisan congressional committee on the conduct of the war.

NO DEFENSE FROM SOUTHERNERS

It is a noteworthy fact that when Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, Brundagee, of Connecticut, and Pomerene, of Ohio, exposed the padding of census estimates in Northern states and minimizing of estimates in Southern states, by means of which the North one from the Greenup plug, one from shows. The will be compelled to furish an undue proportion of soldiers, not a the Front street plug and one from Southern Senator dared arise to defend the estimates. Perhaps in their opinion it is unpatriotic to ask for equality in time of war.

NO ROOM FOR DOUBT

The New York Times, a paper close to the administration, says that "any injustice, if there is any, caused by overestimating the quota of any state will be corrected." Since all the overestimates were in Northern states and the underestimates in Southern states, why the doubt indicated by "if there is any?"
